PROVISION BY THE NATIONAL POLICE OF UKRAINE OF PUBLIC SAFETY AND ORDER UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Now difficult time has come in Ukraine, because of the war, martial law has been imposed in our country. Martial law is a special legal regime introduced in Ukraine or in some of its localities in case of armed aggression or threat of attack, danger to the state independence of Ukraine and its territorial integrity. Despite this, the National Police of Ukraine fulfills its duties in the field of public safety and order.

Protecting public order under martial law, the police use such methods of social regulation as persuasion and coercion, in particular, administrative suspension. Explanatory work as the main method of law enforcement activity, convincing citizens of the need for conscious and voluntary compliance with legal requirements, stopping anti-social behavior, preventive work in labor groups and with individuals is a necessary condition for promoting effective mobilization.

Also, the police use special measures, which, although they are used much less often and only in exceptional cases, but if otherwise it is impossible to stop illegal behavior, then they use measures of physical influence, special means and the use of weapons. These measures are applied only after a warning about their use, subject to strict compliance with the requirements of the law.

During the martial law in Ukraine, a curfew is imposed from evening to morning in all cities. A national curfew was first imposed in Ukraine in March, weeks after Russia's initial invasion. At this time, shops, bars, restaurants and other establishments are closed, and citizens must stay at home until the end of the curfew.

Currently, there are a lot of curfew violators, so the police are actively catching offenders and issuing fines to them, and in some cases, issuing summonses. There are also a lot of business owners who work during the curfew, so the police are trying to fight this. Police raids on such establishments usually result in summonses, arrests and fines.

Roadblocks where the police are on duty have also appeared in the cities of Ukraine. They have an important task: to identify potential criminals, subversive intelligence groups and simply dangerous persons. At roadblocks, the police have the right to stop each person to check their documents, and if everything is fine, they let them through without any problems.

So, during martial law, the police perform a great deal of work in the field of public safety and order, and without a doubt play an important role in this.
