

Kovryhina V. – Researcher of the Department of Economic Security of the National Academy of Internal Affairs, Kiev, Ukraine

Administrative and Legal Characteristic of Determinants «Purpose of Emergency Medical care»

This article provides a thorough study of the category of «purpose» and «purpose of emergency medical care». The analysis of data determinants author singled out a general, immediate and long-term goal.

The basis of public health policy forms the Verkhovna Rada of Ukraine by consolidating the constitutional and legislative principles of health, determine its objectives, the main objectives, directions, principles and priorities, establish standards and volume of budget financing, creation of appropriate financial intermediaries, tax customs and other regulators approving national health programs.

It is characteristic of administrative and legal regulation of emergency medical care is impossible without establishing goals, objectives and principles of activity.

This position involves the study of the current state of emergency medical assistance; establish its place among their types of care; specifying the issuers late to the implementation of their powers.

The author of the structure is defined as the integral unity of components and connections that implement activities. It is there for necessary to consider the purpose of a set of elements and links that form of the act as part of activities to clearly define its place and not to be confused no substitute its mother elements. Purpose can be expressed through the potency to develop future products for the selection of appropriate materials, tools, methods, rules, principles, etc. The organization the goal is selection of elements and relationships, their configuration required for the production of a certain product.

Keywords: purpose, law, health protection, medical care, emergency care, the immediate goal is the overall goal, objective perspective.