

information (collection, storage, storage, processing, transmission, use and development of new media), as well as organizational, legal, political, socio-economic, scientific-technical and production the conditions of implementation processes of such information.

At the same time, based on any approach aimed informatization of Law Enforcement is to bring the whole system of law enforcement agencies with the needs and opportunities of the information society.

Keywords: informatization; law enforcement; information and telecommunications systems; information environment.

UDK 351.764

Oleg Yemets – PhD, Senior Lecturer of Special Technics and Operative Activity Branch of National Academy of Internal Affairs;

Andriy Nebytov – PhD, Researcher of Criminology and Penal Law Branch of National Academy of Internal Affairs

PREVENTION BY OPERATIONAL UNITS OF CREATION AND MAINTENANCE OF PLACES OF DEBAUCHERY

Today reconsider many values; however, the issue of morals protection remains relevant. Shameful acts in the provision of sexual services have long historical roots, but despite this and continue now to carry out a devastating impact on morale in the society. Unfortunately in Ukraine crimes against morals are being committed now. We register every year hundreds of facts for creation or maintenance of places of debauchery and pimping. Similar crimes have high latency. People who know about this illegal activity, not always report it to law enforcement agencies, which complicates their work.

The content of this publication reflects the complex issues related to prevention establishment or maintenance of brothels by operational units in Ukraine. Author examines the legal aspects of dealing with the creation or maintenance of places of debauchery and prevention by law enforcement authorities, as well as studies the features of the work. In addition he, provides recommendations for operational units to prevent similar crimes.

Author draws attention to the fact that the primary responsibility of the operational units of the Interior should be the preventive measures to debarment of the crime committal including the establishment or maintenance of places of debauchery, from the performance of which depends the protection of public morality in the country, what is the key to its normal existence and development.

Prevention of the creation or the maintenance of places of debauchery begins with identifying its causes and conditions that require continuous multi-information and analytical work. General preventive measures should be carried out by the operational units of the Department of interior in cooperation with other state bodies and non-governmental organizations, and individual prevention is aimed at implementation of preventive impact on specific individuals for their rejection of the intent to commit a crime.

With the exhaustion of such opportunities, the decision on carrying application of measures to prevent the commission of a specific planned creation or maintenance of places of debauchery that involves the active use of the covert capabilities of operational units is taken. The recommendations will contribute to the law enforcement officers to carry out work on the prevention of the creation or the maintenance of places of debauchery.

Keywords: place of debauchery; moral; morals; operational units; prevention.

UDK 343.102

Oleg Nazarov – PhD, Associate Professor, Deputy Head of Scientific Laboratory on Bodies of Internal Affairs' Psychological Support of State Scientific and Research Institute of Ministry of Internal Affairs of Ukraine

THE USE OF POLYGRAPHS IN THE WORK OF UKRAINIAN CRIMINAL POLICE

The problems of polygraph use are considered dueto search activity of law enporcement of Ukraine, bodies during investigation.

The author of the article emphasizes that improved methods of operational activities conducting are of great importance, hence the importance and relevance of the use of technical devices (polygraph) provides operational support during investigation of crimes committed